

Ecolab® Operational Reliability IQ™

Always-on digital intelligence that strengthens operational performance and protects profitability

Automotive paint and water systems operate with narrow margins for error. Small deviations can quickly impact quality, uptime and cost. Nalco Water Managed Operations delivers expertise and execution on site. Ecolab Operational Reliability IQ adds continuous digital visibility that helps those efforts drive stronger, more consistent outcomes.

From insight to action

Operational Reliability IQ is a cloud-based digital service that enhances Nalco Water Managed Operations by turning operational data into clear, actionable insight at the site and enterprise levels.

Driving outcomes that matter:

Operational Reliability IQ with always-on visibility, secure data trending, analysis and benchmarking helps validate Managed Operations performance and drive outcomes that matter.

Higher first-time quality through earlier detection of process variability

Fewer and shorter system upsets by enabling faster, more targeted responses

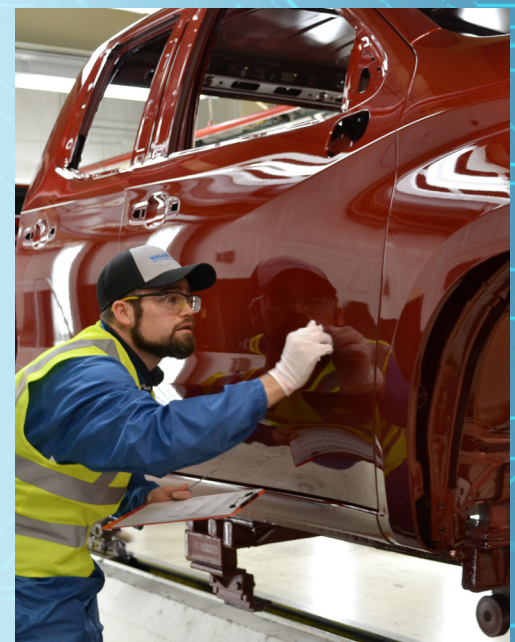

More stable paint booth and water system performance across shifts and sites

Stronger alignment between plant teams and Nalco Water experts

Clear validation of managed operations performance and value delivered

Turning visibility into performance

Ecolab® Operational Reliability IQ™ provides always-on visibility through intuitive dashboards, trend analysis, benchmarking and configurable alerts. Insights powered by securely managed customer data are surfaced when action is needed, helping teams focus on what matters most and act with confidence.

Experience on site. Intelligence across the enterprise.

Nalco Water Managed Operations combines deep automotive expertise, a global footprint and a strong safety culture. Operational Reliability IQ builds on that foundation with digital intelligence that helps every site benefit from best practices, faster learning and greater accountability.

Smarter insight. Faster action. Better performance.

Together, Nalco Water Managed Operations and Operational Reliability IQ bring on-site expertise and always-on digital visibility into a single, connected approach—helping teams act earlier, stay aligned and make every plant your best plant.
